INTERNSHIP REPORT

WEEK 2 DAY 7

Submitted to:	Ali Hyder	Submission Date:	7ᵗʰ July, 2025
Internship Domain:	Front Development	Internship Name:	ProSensia
Student Name:	Yasal Qamar	Roll No.	S25031

CSS Fundamentals + Mini Project

Objectives Covered

- To apply and strengthen front-end development skills using HTML & CSS.
- To design and implement a visually appealing, user-friendly landing page.
- To practice responsive design techniques across various screen sizes.
- To simulate a real-world eCommerce layout for a brand (Talha Doors & Hardware).

Project Description

In Week 2, I developed a stylish and fully responsive product showcase landing page using pure HTML and CSS. The project simulated an online storefront for Talha Doors & Hardware, showcasing a variety of wooden and modern doors.

The layout includes:

- A sticky navigation bar with links.
- A product grid built using CSS Grid and Flexbox.
- Each product card features:
    - Image, title, and pricing
    - Star ratings and reviews
    - "Enquire Now" button with hover effects
    - Visual badges (e.g., Bestseller, Modern, Waterproof)

The UI was designed with a clean, modern feel using shadows, spacing, and typography that enhances readability and UX.

Tools & Technologies Used

- HTML5 – for semantic structure
- CSS3 – for layout, styling, animations

- Visual Studio Code – code editor

Skills Learned

- CSS Grid & Flexbox for layout design
- Visual styling using shadows, transitions, and hover effects
- Responsive design using media queries
- Code modularity and reusability with class-based styling
- Real-world UI/UX decision making

OUTPUT:

Conclusion:

This week of the internship provided a solid foundation in CSS and its real-world applications in front-end development. Through hands-on practice and the mini project, I was able to understand how to turn plain HTML into a visually appealing, structured, and user-friendly layout. The process of designing a stylish product card helped me improve both technical and design skills, preparing me for more advanced layout techniques in the future.
